

WANETA EXPANSION LEGACY DISPLAY

The display was provided to the local community by the project owners, Fortis Inc., Columbia Power, and Columbia Basin Trust, as a legacy of the Waneta Expansion Project. These three pictographs represent the historical use of the Waneta area by First Nations people, construction of the water tunnels for the hydro electric generating station and a representation of how electricity generated by the facility helps power communities.

The display is located at the Fort Shepherd viewing area along Highway 22A, between the Trail Regional Airport and the Waneta border crossing.
